

Life detected

Life detected, inside my brain
Make day and night, kind of seem the same
I walk into the bar, I guess I'm pretty high
Just want to dance
But it seems my brain is full of life

Life detected,
I wake up in my chair, all the lights are on There's a movie playing over there
I stumble to the bed, lying down
Just trying to sleep, but everything is spinning round
Got lots of facts, but all of them are wrong
Life detected, but all of this is real

It's the words, it's the words, in the mind of a child
It's the words, make them up, make them yours, maybe they'll last for a while It's the words drifting off like smoke rings in the night
Words for building walls, words to open doors, words shot off like clouds of arrows

Life detected, it's somewhere in the clouds, whatever it is it's big and circling around Life detected, think I'll have another glass of wine, let the magic of the music work its way across my mind
