

On Mars the Women Fight Beside the Men

I got your text, you say you want to break it off
I went to walk it out, what I been thinking of
Is when we touch we smile, when we talk we understand
It's not easy being friends
But then we're only boys and girls
We're not from different worlds

And now I'm sitting on the street as the day is dawning
Looking at the stars,
Wondering how to get you over on my side again
And I've been working on a happy ending,
I had the message all ready to send
On Mars the women fight beside the men
I tell you now I'm gonna fight to keep you
If I can only find the words to reach you
But you'll have to take me as I am
I know together we can find the strength
And like the righteous live by faith
On Mars the women fight beside the men
If there's a way to get you back again
